Kayden Morales Kayden came to our classroom part way through the year, which can be a challenge. He learned his classmates names quickly, which helped him make many friends. He also adjusted to our classroom rules and routines.

Kayden is respectful to his teachers and his classmates. He is determined to learn how to read and write and always checks in with his teacher to see if he is on the right track. His eyes light up when he has learned something new!

Kayden also has "Fact Power" in math! He is confident solving addition and subtraction facts. He frequently wins math fact challenges, that involve automaticity, and sometimes even is faster than his teacher!

Mrs. Lemire is proud to nominate Kayden Morales as the student of

Annabelle Blais

Annabelle is a fabulous first grader. She works hard to exhibit all of our C.A.R.E.S. Learning Habits.

Annabelle is cooperative. She works well with anyone. She can be a leader among her peers. She is kind and helpful.

Annabelle demonstrates assertion. Annabelle will ask for help if she needs it. She lets others know how she is feeling. She will stand up for herself and her peers.

Annabelle is very responsible. She can be trusted to follow through on every task. She will work until the job is completed.

Annabelle shows empathy. She sympathizes with her peers. She can turn someone's day around with her bright smile and kind words.

Annabelle demonstrates self-control. No matter what happens, Annabelle is in control of her emotions. She handles disappointments well and does not get discouraged when tasks are challenging.

I am so proud of Annabelle. She has a strong work ethic and is a wonderful first grader. I am so happy that she is in my class.

Cadence Hazelton

Cadence Hazelton is an extremely hard worker and a compassionate classmate. She comes to school every single day with a positive attitude and a smile. When she arrives, she always follows the routine and is prepared for the day ahead. She sets a good example for her classmates by being respectful to everyone and following the school rules, while also encouraging others to do the same. Cadence always works hard on her school work and is never afraid to ask questions. She pushes herself to be better and embraces schoolwork that is new and challenges her. Cadence is also an active participant during lessons and isn't afraid to take a risk if she isn't quite sure about an answer. She always does her best when it comes to her schoolwork. Cadence is also extremely kind to her classmates. When someone needs help or does not understand something, she is always willing to take her time to help them understand. She is encouraging of all those around her and certainly leads by example. She is a friend to all. I have no doubt that Cadence will continue to do great things and positively impact her peers.
