LYNDEBOROUGH CENTRAL NEWSLETTER

What is new at LCS?

This week at LCS, we started off the week extra lucky! The sneaky leprechaun stopped by, unfortunately we could not catch him this year! The leprechaun left the school a mess! With the warmer weather, we were able to play on the hill! Students enjoyed playing soccer, catching, and running in the field. Students did a fantastic job at the spring concert on Thursday night! The teachers loved having their own personal song! Next week, each kindergarten class will be visiting the J.A. Tarbell library for story time and borrowing books. There is no school for students on March 28th. Have a super weekend!!

SPECIAL EDUCATION SERVICES

We have a few more staff members who help with special education services: our school social worker, Christy Ruiz, our school psychologist, Erin Schneider, and our guidance counselor, Sam Metivier. Mr. Metivier works with students in counseling sessions focusing on understanding their feelings and how to cope with them. Ms. Ruiz works directly with students, focusing on improving social skills and developing tools to deal with challenging situations, as well as attending IEP meetings with parents and the rest of the special education team. Ms. Schneider also works closely with the special education case managers conducting a variety of evaluations that focus on cognitive, adaptive, social-emotional, and behavioral skills. She attends meetings as well, where she offers her expertise in the evaluation process.

The special education case managers are lucky to have these three individuals as part of the special education team!
