What is new at FRES?

This week at FRES went by fast!

On Monday, the third grade had beautiful weather for their field trip to Squam lake!

We also want to thank all the volunteers and community members who supported the plant sale last Saturday. The 4th grade raised an amazing $761.91. The funds will be reinvested back into the school with purchases made by the 4th grade class. This entire project has been all hands on and an amazing experiences for everyone involved.

Have a great weekend!

What is new at LCS?

This week at LCS, students completed the math iReady diagnostic for the end of the year. Next week, students will complete the iReady reading diagnostic. The students worked incredibly hard on their writing, and were very excited to share at the Author's Tea. Our first annual Author's Tea was a huge success, filled with families and fun! We can't wait for next year. Next week, students will be visiting the JA Tarbell library for one last visit. We hope you have a wonderful weekend!

The background of the entire page is a black and white musical staff with various notes, rests, and clefs. The staff is horizontal and spans the width of the page. The notes are of different durations, including quarter, eighth, and sixteenth notes, as well as rests. The clefs are treble and bass clefs. The staff is a simple black line on a white background.

Greetings from the music room!

Here we are in the CODA of the school year; it feels like just a few weeks ago that we were getting started but now we are almost to the finale. 3rd, 4th, and 5th grade students are busily preparing for their Spring Concert, which will be on May 29th at 6 p.m. They will be presenting a program full of songs that represent America. In addition, band students will be sharing what they have learned this year. These students have been specifically focusing on their diction while singing, having strong breath support, and decoding some of the songs with more complex words. They have also learned some of the history behind their concert songs.

The younger students had their performance in March, but they're still working hard to improve their skills before the year is out. Kindergarten has learned some of the most common party dances (ask them to show you their Macarena!) and continues to sing and dance every week. First grade students have spent some time playing drums and learning different musical games. Second grade has learned the basics of folk dances and are practicing their musical skills with various musical games and activities.

As we enter the last few weeks of the school year I am reminded of the joy and community that comes from making music, and I encourage everyone to find ways to incorporate musical activities into their summer plans. I'll see many of you at the concert, and I wish you all a safe and happy summer!
